Drop Limestone In Mine To Check Fire

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Although termed a dangerous move, tons of big limestone chunks dropped down two air shafts today in another effort to fight the flames trapping 78 men in a coal mine.

The roaring fire has defied all efforts to bring it under control since a series of explosions ignited it before dawn Wednesday and trapped the men. The other 21 miners working the midnight shift managed to get to the surface or were pulled from air shafts.

There has been no word from the 78 since the first of the explosions which apparently shattered the internal communications of Mountaineer Coal Co. No. 9 mine. Mine officials hold little hope that the men are alive.

Oshkosh U Gets Early Vacation

By The Associated Press
Racial disorders have closed three of the nation's colleges at least until after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Security forces guarded all approaches to Bluefield State College in West Virginia which was closed indefinitely after a bomb blast ripped part of the physical education building.

The president of Oshkosh State University in Wisconsin has suspended more than 80 per cent of the school's 11 Negro students following a demonstration that ended with the wrecking of administration offices.

President Roger E. Guilles took the action Friday against 92 Negro and four white students as he ordered a premature start of the school's Thanksgiving recess. More than half those suspended were still in jail.

The white president of the 11,000-member student body and the ranking Negro faculty member both recommended alternatives that might lessen the possibility that the school would be stripped of all but a few of its Negro students.

David Frank of Milwaukee, the student body president, said the violence indicated a gap exists between Negro students and the administration and added: "By suspending the students, the question of closing the gap has in effect been suspended."

DMZ Violations Are Continuing At 'Brisk Rate'

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today enemy activity has continued "at a brisk rate" in the demilitarized zone in the three weeks since President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam.

A spokesman said reconnaissance had disclosed 210 indications of enemy activity in the DMZ since Nov. 1. Of these 22 were labeled "significant"—artillery and machine-gun sites seen firing on allied positions south of the DMZ or firing on U.S. planes patrolling over the buffer zone.

The remainder were classed "insignificant," the spokesman said, including sightings of small groups of enemy soldiers, vehicles, sampans and lights. Of the 210 indications of enemy activity, 71 were spotted in the northern half of the zone and 139 in the southern half, he said. He added that U.S. artillery and jet strikes had been used in the DMZ 67 times since Nov. 1.

In the latest such incident, U.S. artillery silenced a machine-gun nest Friday in the northern half of the zone after a Marine reconnaissance plane was fired on by enemy ground gunners. It was the third report of American guns firing into the northern part of the zone.

North Vietnam called the bombardments "impudent acts of provocation."

In Paris, a North Vietnamese spokesman charged the United States had shelled three villages in the northern half of the zone. The U.S. Command denied that any villages were hit in the shelling.

Radio Hanoi said Friday North Vietnamese anti-aircraft fire downed a pilotless U.S. reconnaissance plane over Hay Tay, north of the DMZ. The radio said it was the fourth American reconnaissance plane downed over North Vietnam since the bombing halt.

Build Chamber To Store Heart

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Beating human hearts have been stored up to nine hours in a chamber designed to keep the organ alive until needed for transplant, perhaps in a distant city, it was reported today to the American Heart Association.

Promising results with the technique of a portable heart bank were described at the association's 41st annual scientific session by Dr. Edward B. Diethrich of Baylor University College of Medicine.

Diethrich said the method involves storing the heart and the lungs of the donor in a battery-powered chamber.

Although chemical tests indicated the hearts functioned well after nine hours, none has been used in any human transplant, the doctor said.

Dog hearts preserved longer than 14 hours have shown "excellent recuperability" when transplanted to other animals, Diethrich reported.

Diethrich has been working on the unit in Houston with Dr. John E. Liddicoat and Dr. Michael E. DeBakey.

Without such a means of storage, surgeons will use a heart taken from a donor no longer than an hour after death.

Proclaim Day

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Jan. 5 as George Washington Carver Day in Michigan, citing him as "a great scientist and outstanding citizen and an example of our belief in the fatherhood of God and brotherhood of man."

Adhering to North Vietnam's propaganda line on this point, Tho said President Johnson was forced to declare an unconditional bombing halt in order to get an enlarged parity including South Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front as well as Hanoi and Washington representatives.

But the broadened conference set for Nov. 6 did not get under way because "the U.S. government speaks with one voice and acts with another," Tho charged.

Stresses Rank

Tho was met at Le Bourget Airport by Xuan Thuy, nominally head of the Hanoi delegation at the peace talks, but out-ranked by Tho, who is listed as delegation adviser.

The gray-haired, elegantly dressed North Vietnamese leader also was welcomed by Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, head of the NLF delegation, and the Soviet

Second Heart Fails; Man Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The longest U.S. survivor of heart transplant surgery, Everett C. Thomas, 47, died today of problems which developed after he received a second donor heart.

"His condition deteriorated steadily Friday night, with bleeding problems and diminishing kidney function culminating in irreversible cardiac arrest at 4 a.m.," a St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital spokesman said.

Thomas, an accountant from Phoenix, Ariz., received his first transplanted heart May 3. Only Dr. Philip Blaisberg, 58, of Cape Town, South Africa, who received a new heart Jan. 2, has lived longer than Thomas following transplant surgery.

Thomas received the second donor heart Thursday. Doctors said he showed signs of rejecting the first heart implanted last May 3.

His second operation followed by hours the first implant of a second donor heart into a person. Physicians at Stanford University Medical Center said Darrell Hammarley, 56, underwent two heart transplant operations within six hours Wednesday. Hammarley was reported progressing satisfactorily.

Daylight Saving Lost, State's Tab Reports

FRENCH PREMIER Maurice Couve de Murville, right, talks to newsmen outside Elysee Palace in Paris after meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle on the monetary crisis. A palace usher is at center. Devaluation of the French franc was reported virtually certain but it appeared that announcement of the move might be delayed until after a meeting of the French cabinet today. (AP Wirephoto by cable from Paris)

De Gaulle Is Mum About Devaluation

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle remained mum today about devaluation of the franc. But much of the world considered it a foregone conclusion, and was only wondering how much the value of French currency would drop.

West Germany's finance minister, Franz Josef Strauss, spoke Friday as if devaluation of the franc had already been decided.

But the word "devaluation" has not been pronounced in public by any French official. It will not be a fact until De Gaulle says so.

Although devaluation would help the country out of its severe financial straits, there remained a slim chance that De Gaulle would rather fight.

No Settlement

He met three times Friday with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville, and one of these meetings was attended by Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli. Neither made a statement after the sessions.

Strauss made his statement at the end of a long meeting of the Group of 10, the central bankers or finance ministers of the world's 10 most industrialized non-Communist countries, together with Switzerland and the Bank of International Settlements on efforts to shore up the French economy.

"Here we have the question of the devaluation of the French franc," said Strauss. "The French government has to decide the extent of it. But there is unanimity that there will be no consideration of a devaluation of other currencies."

Extend Credit

The meeting was called after speculators began a run on the franc. Agreement was reached at the session to extend France nearly $3 billion in credits.

German sources at the meeting in Bonn said the devaluation would be around 10 per cent, from the present 20-cent level to 18 cents. The Paris newspaper France Soir headlined: "Devaluation of the franc by 10 per cent maximum."

If De Gaulle confirms such speculation, it would be the 13th time the French franc has been devalued in 40 years.

As do many others, De Gaulle probably sees the German mark as the newest threat to international monetary stability. It has become so powerful in terms of the amount of goods it will buy in Germany, that it has crept ahead in purchasing power of the franc, the British pound and even the American dollar.

For months some countries have been urging West Germany to revalue the mark higher in terms of foreign currency. But Germany, feeling itself rich financially but small diplomatically, has declined to do this.

Jetliner Ditching 'One-In-A-Million'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 107 persons aboard a Japan Air Lines jet can thank the highest tide of the year and a cool pilot for their "one-in-a-million" survival of a crash-landing into San Francisco Bay.

They didn't even get their feet wet Friday when the DC8, arriving from Tokyo, belied into the foggy shallows of the bay, three miles short of the runway at San Francisco International Airport.

The National Transportation Safety Board said in Washington it was the first successful ditching since jetliners began operations almost a decade ago. A 10-man investigative team from the agency began today probing the reason for the crash.

No Panic

Peter H. Covert, 42, a passenger from Spring Valley, N.Y., said the landing in seven feet of water went so smoothly most of the passengers took pictures of the ditching operation. There was no panic, he said.

"They just kept on snapping pictures," said Covert, who has 3,000 hours flying time as a private pilot. "It was a damned good water landing."

At the point of impact, just off Coyote Point, 18 miles south of San Francisco, there was a rising seven-foot tide, the highest of the year, the Coast Guard said. Normally, water is no more than four feet deep at the spot.

South San Francisco's fire chief, John Marchi, said the seven-foot depth was sufficient to cushion the impact, but not deep enough for the plane to sink. He called the rescue "a one-in-a-million shot."

Japanese Pilot

The plane's pilot, Kohei Asoh, 47, of Yokohama, with the airline 14 years, said his plane cut through the fog at 11 feet and settled into the water at a speed of 177 miles per hour.

A RECEPTION COMMITTEE greeted Gary Wetzel, 21, of South Milwaukee as the former Army sergeant returned from Washington with the Medal of Honor. He holds the hand of his fiancée, Bonnie Cline, 19, at the airport amid a group of American Legion members, a high school band and ROTC cadets. ## Vote Unsettles Time Standard In Eastern U.P.

LANSING (AP) — A just-completed, county-by-county check of the Nov. 5 election returns spells apparent defeat for daylight savings time in Michigan by only 413 votes.

Unofficial returns reported immediately after the election showed the fast time proposal ahead by some 25,000 votes with only 2.2 per cent of the state's 5,576 precincts unreported.

Secretary of State James Hare, who announced the result of the vote canvass late Friday, said it was not immediately possible to find the cause of the discrepancy.

However, a major portion of the vote difference—17,000 votes

Eastern Time Coming Again?

What effect the apparent change in the time referendum result will have on time in Delta County was not immediately clear today.

The Board of Supervisors in advance of the election said, "if there is a No vote on the referendum, the state law prevails, and we will remain on E.S.T. (Eastern Standard Time)."

When the first election tally was reported, the belief was that the referendum was approved and Delta County, to conform with the federal law apparently upheld by the election, set clocks back to Central Standard Time.

If the official canvass certifies that the proposal was defeated, Delta County and other Upper Peninsula counties now on Central Standard Time could be required to advance clocks one hour to Eastern Time.

—was traced to the unofficially reported for Jackson County.

"We're sure of our figures," added State Elections Director Bernard Apol.

Recount Vote

Hare noted backers of daylight savings time could petition for a recount of the vote. The deadline is 48 hours after the returns are certified by the Board of State Canvassers.

The board is scheduled to meet Monday, but Hare said they might delay certifying the savings time totals in order to give fast-time supporters an opportunity to decide whether to ask for a recount.

Hare added that none of the other results reported following the election had been overturned by the canvass, which was completed only Friday.

The savings time count as compiled by Apol's elections division showed 1,402,002 votes for savings time and 1,402,415 against. The margin of defeat was less than 0.0002 per cent of the total vote cast on the question.

The unofficial vote total reported for Jackson County on election night gave the Daylight Time issue a margin of 20,559 to 1,828 with 70 of 76 precincts reporting. The official vote total, covering all 76 precincts in Jackson County, was 24,04 in favor of Daylight Time, 22,854 opposed.

Carl Nordberg Honored For Services To State

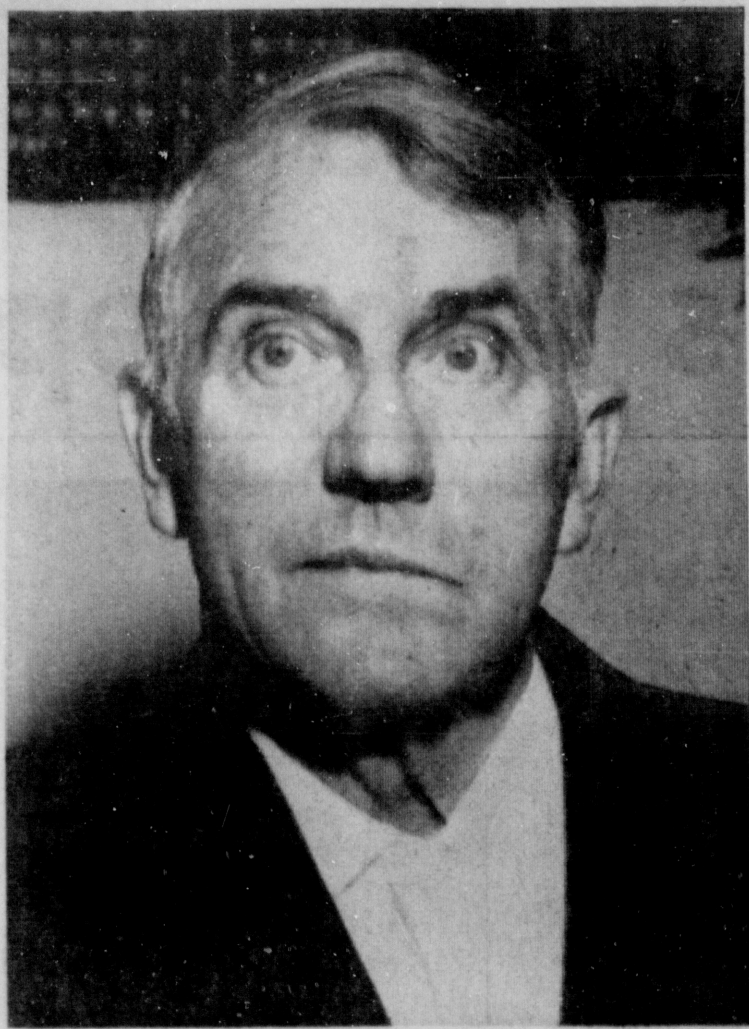

Carl A. Nordberg, retired supervisor of the Mackinac Island State Park, has been honored by Gov. George Romney with a State of Michigan Resolution of Tribute for his services to the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Nordberg live at 1112 12th Ave. S. He is widely known in the state for his distinguished career in athletics as well as for his management of the state's big park system at Mackinac. He coached Escanaba High School's football team from 1931 to 1939 and was at Saginaw High School from 1939 to 1945. In his last year at Saginaw his teams won All-State honors in football and track.

Nordberg served the state in unclassified jobs under 9 governors, starting with Frank Murphy in 1937 as dock master at Mackinac Island. He served every summer from 1937 to 1945 as dockmaster or assistant superintendent. Under Governor Harry Kelly he went to the island as park superintendent.

The Resolution of Tribute states: "As an employ of the State of Michigan of long-standing, you have made a lasting contribution to the growth of Michigan and have helped to meet the myriad public needs entrusted to us.

"As Governor of Michigan it is my pleasure to recognize and congratulate you for this fine and outstanding service. The manner in which you have fulfilled your daily responsibilities typified a conscientious public servant and has helped to bring credit to state government.

"The people of Michigan are extremely grateful for the contributions you have made over these past years."

Nordberg is a native of St. Joseph, Mich., where he played four years of high school football. He was graduated from Michigan State University in 1931 after a varsity career with the Spartans as half-back and quarterback under Coaches Kipke and Crowley.

At Lansing he is a member of the Commanders Club, appointed in 1965 by Governor Romney, and is currently commodore of the Mackinac Island Yacht Club.

He wed Miss Catherine Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ryan of Escanaba, and they have two sons, Atty. Carl Nordberg in Pittsburgh, and Atty. Thomas J. Nordberg of Lansing. Carl is wed to Kathryn Walch of Escanaba, daughter of the late Dr. John J. Walch and Mrs. Walch, and Thomas is wed to Barbara Garrard, daughter of the Leland Garrards, former residents of Escanaba.

Carl Nordberg retired this fall from his state duties because of ill health, and the family came to Escanaba to make their home here.

Nordberg said "It has been a great privilege to work with the Mackinac Island State Park Commission for so many years. It has given service to the people of the state which is not fully recognized for its able devotion and its great achievements. Mackinac is an outstanding example of what historic treasures can become when they are developed for public usage and enjoyment. We owe the commissioners a great debt for their unpaid services to Michigan."

City Dwellers In U.P. Most Bookish

By JEAN WORTH

The people who live in cities read a lot more books than those in the country. The difference is marked in the Upper Peninsula, says Ray Mahoney, director of reader services of the Michigan State Library, who has just finished a visit to Upper Peninsula libraries.

"There's noticeably more reading in metropolitan areas," said Mahoney. "It's related to education and people also work harder in rural areas and they're more tired in the evening when they might be reading than city people, who don't work as hard physically."

(Peter F. Drucker writes in the current Harper's Magazine that the automobile, electric powers and other things have "integrated rural society into city society. They abolish rural society as such, dissolve it into a poor and underprivileged component of an urban world. A hundred years ago the city was the exception and society was essentially the countryside. Today rural society rarely exists any more and can only be defined by whatever city blessings it does not enjoy.")

Federal Aid Helps

Mahoney says that the sharp contrast between a large city high school like the Escanaba Area High School with 1,000 to 1,500 students and a rural high school in the Upper Peninsula is very apparent to a librarian. "The big high school has a breadth of subject matter of interest to many students." The little school, with meager library and program, offers its students no comparable stimulation.

Library service is improving in Michigan, said Mahoney and Charles Harper, the new director of the State Library's U. P. branch in Escanaba, but not fast enough. The calls for library services increase, but state appropriations for books and library services do not increase proportionately, said Mahoney.

Most progress in Michigan has been made, he said, because of federal aid. It's been available for four years now and have caused a great improvement in public and school libraries and in a few more years they should be much better equipped to cope with the needs of a public that keeps expanding its reading, said Mahoney.

2,000 Magazines

The State Library serves not only the young, but also adult readers. Mahoney visited a nursing home in Gladstone and learned of the number of elderly blind in the Upper Peninsula who are now without reading materials because of their blindness. "We can make 25 different magazines available to the blind every month," said Mahoney. (The State Library now gets 2,000 of the 5,000 magazines published in this country.)

The mounting costs that affect all other phases of education and of American living affect libraries, too. Books commonly cost $8 a copy and make specially desirable the 30 to 40 per cent discounts available when purchases are made in large quantities. The State Library is encouraging the formation of library federations like the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation embracing

Ray Mahoney

Charles Harper

all the public libraries in Iron, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, Schoolcraft and Alger counties. (Baraga County has also asked admission.)

Book Collection

The federation has a book collection of its own to enrich the member libraries and makes possible borrowing within the federation, which is also backstopped by the State Library, which in turn is now backstopped by the University of Michigan library. The result is a great pool of books, manuscripts and other literary and scientific materials to meet modern education and entertainment needs.

Starting in January the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation will contract with Bro-Dart to supply its books, at a charge of 9 cents to $1 over list discount price, with all the cataloging of books already done by professional cataloguers. It costs the libraries more than this to do the work themselves individually at present.

Need Workers

One of the Upper Peninsula's great library needs, said Mahoney, is library workers. He thinks a U. P. college could train library aides and library technicians to serve the need and that from among them more librarians (degree plus a year of library science work) could be developed. An accredited librarian is needed to get state and federal library aid and librarians are so hard to get that some U. P. libraries (like Escanaba's) are served by the federation librarian (Ralph Secord) to qualify.

Reading tastes have been pushed upward, said Mahoney, because young people are now studying in high school what were formerly college subjects. "They are more sophisticated; they travel more and they are interested in more things," said Mahoney. "We are educating people so they read more and then they go to the library in many places and find it lacks books because it lacks funds. Our community colleges are a prime example of this problem."

Presently the crews are fighting the weather to finish the storm drainage on 3rd Ave. S. from 26th St. west to Willow Creek, and the project was expected to be completed within a few days.

"We are also involved in more brushing and tree removal on the fringes of the airport. This will continue until completed. When these two jobs are finished, we will move to Club 314 for dismantling, and then to Mueller's Pizza Palace on N. 16th St., across from the Junior

A telephone did not grace the desk of a United States President until the Hoover Administration in 1929, the National Geographic says. The first presidential phone call, however, was placed in 1877 when Rutherford B. Hayes and Alexander Graham Bell spoke through 13 miles of wire in Rhode Island.

High School," Harvey said. "Although this building is owned by the school board, we recognize the problem of the schools and have consented to the request of the schools to dismantle this building. Private individuals expressed an interest in this work but the liability involved and the cost for protection was more than they could handle."

Work Reviewed

Harvey reviewed the work of the public works crews in the past several months:

Completed cleaning and deepening the Willow Creek drainage ditch, necessary to take care of the storm sewer drainage systems that are being constructed in and around Parkway Estates development west of the Area High School.

Storm sewers with the exception of the storm drainage on 3rd Ave. S. have been completed and the latter is being finished; and all storm drainage work in Parkway Estates is finished. Storm sewers were placed under 21st St. from 10th Ave. S. to 12th Ave. S.

The paving program, now completed, accomplished surfacing of 12th Ave. S. from the Country Club to 23rd St.; 8th Ave. S. from 14th to 19th Sts.; S. 21st St. from 18th Ave. S. to 25th Ave. S.; 2nd Ave. S. from 25th to 26th Sts.; as well as the old Danforth Road; plus access roads and railway crossings.

Sewers Extended

Several streets were graveled in the Parkway Estates with considerable fill needed to bring them up to grade.

Sanitary sewers were extended from 12th Ave. S. to north-east of 23rd St.; on 6th Ave. S. from 21st St. west; and in the Parkway Estates the job was a big one to bring the sanitary sewer down 5th Ave. S. into 29th and 30 Sts.

The installation of water mains into Parkway Estates has been completed throughout; water mains have been extended into the Medcenter directly west of Doctors Park; and other water lines have been extended into other areas including the Morey Addition on 2nd Ave. S. between 25th and 26th Sts.

Industrial Park

"Another major undertaking that we have been attending to over the past several years is the installation of new sidewalks where needed and where pedestrian traffic warrants, particularly around the schools," City Manager Harvey reported. "So it was that the city installed sidewalks at the John Lemmer School from 7th to 8th Aves. S. on 20th St. and then on 8th Ave. S. westerly from 20th St. to 21st St."

Other sidewalks have been repaired and installed. Thirty-two notices were mailed out regarding the construction of new sidewalks in various parts of the city. Of the total 23 complied, and the other nine, along 8th Ave. S., were granted deferment.

Public works crews spent considerable time in street resurfacing and the "reaction has been most favorable," said Harvey. Paving was also accomplished on parking lots on 1st Ave. N.

Additional streets are to be resurfaced next year.

A major project to be undertaken is the extension of water and sewer lines into the Industrial Park, where the Bay de Noc Community College campus is also to be developed.

CITY PUBLIC WORKS crew work to complete construction of storm sewers in the Parkway Estates subdivision before winter comes. Parkway Estates is located in the area west of the Area High School and opens a large and desirable area to residential development. New homes are already under construction there. ## Seat On Council Will Be Vacated By Vanlerberghe

Councilman Harold J. Vanlerberghe of Escanaba, who will become an elected member of the new Delta County Board of Supervisors on Jan. 1, today said he is vacating his seat on the City Council.

"These are automatic vacancies," he said.

Another Council member, H. George Nelson, was also elected to the Board of Supervisors on Nov. 5.

Was Twice Mayor

"The vacancies would be effective Dec. 30, the date selected by Circuit Judge Bernard Davidson to swear in the new county officers," Vanlerberghe said.

Vanlerberghe was twice mayor of Escanaba and has served on the Council since 1960. He was elected to the board of supervisors on the Republican ticket. Nelson was elected on the Democratic ticket. He has been on the Council since 1964.

Delta County will have a five-man board of supervisors replacing the 27-man board, and Vanlerberghe noted that the work load for the five supervisors is expected to be heavy.

Vanlerberghe's responsibilities with the Task Force of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission and its many projects, plus the demands upon him as traffic manager of the Escanaba Paper Co. in a period of expansion, combine to influence his decision, he said.

Opinion Cited

"I feel that I can best serve the public by doing a good job at the county level," he explained.

The vacancies on the Escanaba Council will be filled by appointments made by the three remaining Council members - Mayor Cecil B. Chase, Edward J. Cox and Robert Bink.

Attorney General Frank Kelley has held that councilmen elected to boards of supervisors may not hold both offices. This opinion was supported by a statement by City Attorney John G. Erickson to the City Council Thursday night. He will submit a written opinion at the request of the Council.

The situation is not unique to Escanaba but occurs in other municipalities in Michigan.

Some Elsewhere

In Iron Mountain and Kingsford, for example, four vacancies will exist on their councils as the result of the election of four councilmen to the Dickinson County Board of Supervisors.

Electing to posts on the new 15-member Dickinson County board were Gilbert LaFave, Iron Mountain, first ward; Cecil Rushford, Iron Mountain, third ward; Ivar Anderson, Iron Mountain, fourth ward, and Garland Mainville, Kingsford, councilman-at-large.

Both councils are expected to make appointments to fill the unexpired terms of the four men.

LaFave, Anderson, Rushford, and Mainville will bow out of their respective councils after the December meetings.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Nixon's Hometown Is Point Of Argument

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP) — A dispute has broken out between this sedate college town of 75,000 and its tiny neighbor, Yorba Linda, over which should more properly be called the boyhood home of President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

A sign proclaiming Whittier as the place "where Richard M. Nixon, 37th President of the United States, spent his boyhood" already has been erected here.

But, in Yorba Linda, just across the Orange County line, a "stop Whittier" campaign is in full swing.

Born In Yorba Linda

Nixon was born in Yorba Linda. When he was 9, however, he and his family came to Whittier Quaker center east of Los Angeles. His mother and father opened a market here.

Nixon listed this as his hometown when he entered the Navy during World War II and when he first ran for Congress in 1946. He launched his first vice presidential campaign here in 1952.

What more evidence is needed? ask Whittier folks.

School Owned

In recent years, of course, Nixon has lived in New York City.

The "stop Whittier" campaign is directed by the "Yorba Linda Citizens Steering Committee for the Preservation of President Richard M. Nixon's Birthplace as a Historical Site."

The small frame house where Nixon was born in 1913 is owned by the Yorba Linda elementary school district. There has been talk of turning it into a museum to preserve Nixon papers and mementoes.

"I certainly don't intend to go to sleep here and let Yorba Linda take it," says Robert Chapman, a Whittier Chamber of Commerce vice president.

"Abilene, Kan., a town of about 8,000 population... now has about 5,000 tourists a week," he adds. President Dwight D. Eisenhower grew up in Abilene. Johnson City, Tex., and Independence, Mo., also attract many "presidential tourists," these days.

In Service

Radarman Third Class William L. Sheedio, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Sheedio of 1328 N. 18th St., Escanaba, returned to the United States aboard the destroyer USS McKean, which arrived in Long Beach, Calif. from its third six-month deployment with the Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam. The San Diego-based destroyer also exercised its ASW capabilities while operating in the Tonkin Gulf with ASW Group Three and in coordinated maneuvers with the Japanese Navy in the Sea of Japan.

Editors In School

When editors of six Michigan newspapers of Panax Corp. went to the University of Michigan recently they found themselves in the role of students as well as teachers. They went to Ann Arbor to present a panel discussion on modern newspapers in the U-M School of Journalism, but after a luncheon in the Union with Arthur Ross, vice president-finance, and other U-M officials they stopped at the Clements Library for an hour of lecture on American history in the library's Rare Book Room.

Howard Peckham, the librarian, gave a virtuoso performance in American history. If all teachers could excel in his way there would be no problem, in getting school millage voted, but it might create its own problems. Parents, for instance, might insist upon going to school with their children, because it was such fun.

But Peckham has one of the greatest assemblies of teaching tools in the world for his subject. The Clements' collection of 40,000 printed books and its manuscripts make it world renowned, like the Bodleian, the Library of Congress and a few others. It specializes in American history, dating its interest from Christopher Columbus and ending it in 1860, before the start of the Civil War, which would require an entire library for its own purposes.

Columbus' own account of his first voyage to the New World is there, of course. He wrote a letter to the treasurer of the Spanish royal court to account for all the money he'd spent in his wandering around the Atlantic. A Latin version of Columbus' letter reached Rome within a few weeks and was republished there in several editions by two printers, and reprinted with in the year in Antwerp, Basle and Paris.

The Clements' copy was published by Stephen Planck in Rome and it's typical of all the others. The text fills 7 of the 8 pages and with this letter American history begins. Friends of the Clements have paid more than $50,000 for some of its single volumes, one is worth $200,000, others are priceless because they're irreplaceable.

There's an account of the first circumnavigation by a man who sailed with Magellan "just for the trip." Of the hundreds who started out only 18 got home with their story of finding a passage through the Western Continent into the South Sea.

Colonization efforts, before and after Jamestown form a large part of the Clements' history and of course it's greatly concerned with the Revolutionary War. The library was created for scholars, not for the reading public, and it is interested only in source materials, in accounts of historic events by persons who participated in them, not in commentaries or interpretations. (Kenneth Roberts went to the Clements for the facts of history when he was writing "Roger's Rangers".)

Some of the great manuscript collections of history are in the Clements, like the letters of British General Thomas Gage. There are letters from George Washington, one about need for a pair of pliers to fix the wires on his false teeth. One from Paul Revere's wife telling him not to come home because the British have come.

Burgoyne's letter on surrender at Saratoga is there. It was one of the most decisive defeats in world history because it brought France into the war and turned the tide against Britain, although she was still strong militarily when she ended the war. The British public got sick of a conflict that lasted 8 years. Sound familiar?

The Panax editors thought the university's hospitality artful. First Financier Ross with his concern about public understanding of the need for quality institutions of higher education like the University of Michigan and their very high cost. And then Librarian Peckham with the actual documents that trace civilized man's development in the Western Hemisphere, a great treasure trove of history that will enrich study of America for all foreseeable time to come.

"These old newspapers will be here after your's are gone," he told the Panax editors, "because they're printed on rag paper. Wood pulp process hadn't been invented yet."

Not that he'd change it. Who could find enough rags to keep today's presses rolling?

Dig Again

Good old American ingenuity and energy have done it again — causing chagrin in certain quarters.

It appears that we are in for a bumper harvest this year. Wheat, corn and soybeans in particular are pointing toward record or near-record yields.

It wasn't supposed to work out this way. Through its complex of farm programs, principally reduction of producing acreage linked to supports, the Agriculture Department had hoped to keep production roughly in line with demand and payments to farmers within manageable limits.

But the American farmer has remained true to form. By continuing to increase per-acre yield through improved seed, fertilizer and technique, his output on 6.8 million fewer acres than last year is exceeding all expectations.

It's all going to cost the taxpayers plenty. President Johnson's estimate is up to an extra $700 million. Other guesses run higher — to a total of $3.9 billion in support payments for the current fiscal year instead of the $2.9 billion budgeted.

While starvation is reality to millions, even within our own borders, we spend billions to take land out of production and keep crops off the market in a generally unsuccessful attempt to keep producer and consumer happy.

There must be a better way.

Medic's Reward Is Saving Lives

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Larry R. Larson says, "Saving a man's life is the greatest possible satisfaction."

The 19-year-old Army medic just returned from 13 months in Vietnam where he won the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, the Army Commendation Medal, the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, three Purple Hearts and three campaign ribbons.

"Before I went to Vietnam," Larson said, "I wanted to be a veterinarian—an animal doctor—but after that experience, I want to be a people doctor."

"I grew up a lot over there," the specialist five said. "The important thing however, is that I was helping people...And if I were to go back, I would want to go back to the field as a medic."

Helping his buddies in Vietnam was no easy task for the philosophical teen-ager.

His first Purple Heart came after being shot in the foot while with an ambush patrol. After three weeks in a hospital, he was back at the front.

His second Purple Heart was awarded after he suffered burns when an enemy rocket exploded while he was riding in an armored personnel carrier. He was back in action in two weeks.

The Bronze Star and his third Purple Heart came when Larson was caught in intense enemy fire. He helped the wounded to a helicopter rescue ship and, although wounded himself, continued to rescue his comrades.

Larson won the Silver Star when all the medics in his unit but himself were wounded. He had to work alone for three days. Once, he had to rescue a U.S. soldier so exhausted by the fighting he headed into enemy lines.

The Army Commendation Medal was awarded for meritorious service in Vietnam.

After his discharge, the Spokane youth hopes to study nursing at a nearby college. Meanwhile, he has been assigned to the 1st Armored Cavalry Regiment, 8th Squadron, Aviation Co., at Ft. Knox Ky.

It is estimated that more honeymooners visit Niagara Falls in September than in June.

Religion Undergoing Transfer Of Power

By DAVID POLING

The daily news is filled with a process going on in Washington—the preparation for the transfer of power from one administration to another.

In the next 80 days the political power of one administration will be transferred to another. The orderly transfer of power is something to behold—whether it be in politics or religion. We are used to the 4- or 8-year shifts in Washington, but we are not well-acquainted or prepared for the movement of leadership and power in the life of the church.

Anyone following the news stories out of San Antonio, Los Angeles and Washington should be familiar with the power struggle in those dioceses. In the capital, Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle has threatened to discipline 52 priests for their public challenge to the Vatican's statement on birth control. A half-dozen priests, some professors, have continued an open defiance of the cardinal and received support from responsible laymen.

In San Antonio, Archbishop Robert E. Lucey has faced an ecclesiastical insurrection led by the four top officials of Assumption Major Seminary in that city. Not only faculty, but 127 seminarians have appealed to the Pope to remove the archbishop from his post.

These events must not be dismissed as isolated occasions provoked by rebellious priests or surly laymen. What you are observing is a historic shift in power within the church. This is happening much faster than anyone dreamed—even the most enthusiastic participant of Vatican II could not predict such a widespread upheaval in the monolithic structure of the Roman Church.

Recently, a leading Protestant churchman was visiting with a Catholic bishop from Latin America. It was one of those quiet afternoon receptions held at an eastern university. Lots of good food and good conversation. The bishop, a veteran of Latin-American service, said to his Protestant counterpart:

"How would you like to take over 20,000 hospitals, schools, churches and mission stations south of the border? We are in great trouble. Time is running out in Latin America. We are short on staff and too long on a tradition that resists change and reform. Our recruitment is anemic. Our image is 19th-century theology and 18th-century politics. I don't think we have even five years to get in touch with the social revolution."

Some are calling this period a "crisis in obedience" for the church, especially the Roman Catholic province. But all ecclesiastical authority is under review and examination.

When leadership falters, as did the Vatican statement on birth control, then people look to more vital and sensitive sources for guidance and direction. The older cardinals and bishops cannot impose their world view on the clergy and laymen who are in touch with the real scene. To them, it is better to be insubordinate than irrelevant.

George Coffin lists today's hand under "Q for Quandary." He points out that once in awhile you will be faced with a pure guess.

He doesn't show the East and West hands as we do, but you get to three no-trump and the queen of hearts is opened. You win the heart lead in dummy, cash the ace and king of diamonds and lead a spade toward your king-jack-10.

His comment is, "Don't ask me what to play. See a voodoo doctor!"

We don't want to go that far. Somehow or other you can find some reason for almost any play and in this situation there is a slight percentage in favor of playing the 10 or the jack, rather than the king.

If you choose the king play and it works, you will make 10 tricks. If you choose the jack or 10 play and it forces the ace, you will make 11 tricks. Thus, when you play low you are giving yourself a chance for an extra trick. One extra trick doesn't mean too much at the time but over the years extra tricks mount up.

Then, there is another reason for playing low here. Some bad players hate to hold back an ace and there is a chance that if East did hold the ace he would have played it. On the other hand no one would go up with his queen if he did not have to.

This hand also brings up an interesting point in play. Some years ago some nameless player invented the "queen over jack" theory. The idea is that due to imperfect shuffles, signs of the zodiac or something, the queen is more likely to be back of the jack than in front of it.

There is nothing to the theory but it has an advantage for the unlucky player. If he always plays the queen over the jack, he will be right half the time. If he tries to guess, his percentage of success may go down.

Ann Landers

Gift Wrapped Ugly Piece Of Old Junk

Dear Ann Landers: A close friend of mine returned recently from a fancy trip to a far-away country. She "brought" me a gift which stunned me.

Wrapped in expensive paper and nestled neatly in a box which bore the name of a foreign shop known for its high prices was this cheap little thing which I have seen gathering dust in her home for years. I remember it well because it was such an ugly piece of junk.

What shall I say? — NOBODY'S FOOL

Dear N.F.: Say thank you. And before you pop a blood vessel, consider the possibility that your friend actually liked the "ugly piece of junk" and when she saw one similar she bought it for you.

Dear Ann: Three months ago we rented the upstairs of our duplex to a family with three children. The oldest child is a boy 11 years of age. He is the problem although the poor kid doesn't know it.

The boy's father put up a basketball hoop on the side of the house. Now all the boys in the neighborhood congregate in our backyard to play basketball. The shouting and the banging against the house is more than my nerves can take. Yesterday all the knick-knacks fell off the wall shelf. I had to take to my bed with a sick headache.

I know the kids aren't upsetting me on purpose. I realize boys have to play and basketball is a wonderful sport. What's more, the lad lives in this duplex and he is entitled to put up a hoop if he wants to. So what is the solution, Ann? I won't last eight years till he goes away to college.—FRAZZLED NERVES

Dear Frazz: The sound of a basketball bouncing against the side of a house would give anybody a sick headache. You can do something about it.

Tell the boy's dad you will pay for a basketball hoop board if he will put it up. Call a sporting goods house and order one at once. These boards are supported by metal poles and can stand any place.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you printed a letter about a family fight. The wife signed the letter. Her name was Lois. Her husband's name was Dick.

It so happens my name is Lois and my husband's name is Dick. The details of the letter sounded like a little problem we've been having lately. Unfortunately, several people knew about it.

I did not write that letter but our friends and relatives swear I did. Our phone started to ring at 7:45 a.m. The calls kept coming till midnight. Several people wanted to know why I was so stupid as to use our right names.

The least you can do, Ann Landers, is change the names of the people who write to you. You'll never know the embarrassment you have caused us.—NOT GUILTY

Dear Not: I did change the names—to Lois and Dick. I never use the real names of people who write about problems that might prove embarrassing.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

"Quotes"

When I took office in November 1963, I said we must continue. Now, after five years, that is still the best advice I can give you. We must continue.—President Johnson.

The postgraduate student with a teaching fellowship has as much trouble understanding undergraduates who are only four or five years younger as an aged professor might have, sometimes even more. For a generation is now about five years.—Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Sometimes I really get an urge to write an ad and change something. You name it, and I have a grievance against it.—Christine Michelson, at a New York City workshop on writing protest ads.

Holy City Quiet Under Curfew

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Arab sector of the Holy City remained quiet under a tight curfew today while Israeli investigators probed Friday's market blast that killed 12 persons and injured more than 50 including at least 17 seriously injured.

The curfew, imposed at 8 p.m. Friday, was to remain in effect indefinitely.

Border troops and police patrolled the narrow streets in the old walled city and the wide thoroughfares of the new business sector. Others stood guard at the entrance to the Arab quarters, stopping all Arabs trying to return to East Jerusalem.

Hundreds of tourists caught in Arab Jerusalem hotels at the start of the curfew were permitted to leave after showing their identity.

It was the first time the Jewish and Arab sectors had been separated since the June 1967 war. For 20 years the city was divided by stone walls and barbed wire into two sectors.

times earlier: There was no plan to seal the entire mine.

A controversy started over the safety conditions in the mine. William Parks of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and a United Mine Workers union representative, Lewis Evans, said federal inspectors toured the mine in August and certified it as safe.

Violations

When asked about earlier reports that the mine had failed to pass some tests, Parks replied: "If the mine was unsafe, we would have stopped operations. That's all there is to it."

The Charleston, W. Va., Daily Mail said in its Friday edition that federal officials and officials of the West Virginia Department of Mines found nearly identical violations of safety procedures in No. 9 mine.

State officials inspected No. 9 in October, 1967 and again last month. The Daily Mail said the federal report noted violations of coal dust control standards. Coal dust, when suspended in mines, is highly combustible. The Daily Mail said state inspectors found similar shortcomings two months after the federal men looked at the mine.

Chest Clinic Is Offered Dec. 5

Several counties in the Upper Peninsula rank with Michigan metropolitan areas in case rates of active tuberculosis.

Included is Menominee County, with an active rate of 30 per 100,000 population. Delta has a lower case rate but is still relatively high with 24 per 100,000.

Part of this high incidence is due to increased awareness of tuberculosis and an increased number of detection programs. Another factor is the relatively large number of older residents who have a "breakdown" of disease acquired in early life. Other reasons for high rates include: mining occupations, high number of persons infected before good drugs to treat tuberculosis were available, marginal nutrition and poor housing.

"Early detection of tuberculosis before it is seeded in community"

Wife May Be Best Solution On Farm Books

November is almost over the hill and that leaves December to complete 1968. How are your farm records?

Farmers should not keep records for income tax alone. There are many other reasons. We should keep records to compare returns with previous years. It is not enough to know what your income is. You should also know where it is coming from and the cost of deriving that income. It is just as important to hold down expenses as it is to improve income.

Farmers should develop a routine for recordkeeping, a place to deposit slips on things purchased and paid. The record book should be kept handy. If records get too far in arrears it discourages the farmer. Maybe the best solution is the wife. You could afford to take her out for a steak dinner to compensate her for the job. No business can operate without records and many of our farms today are big business.

Forest Service Delay On Budworm Spray Is Lucky

By SPAR SAGER
Forestry Technician
U. S. Forest Service

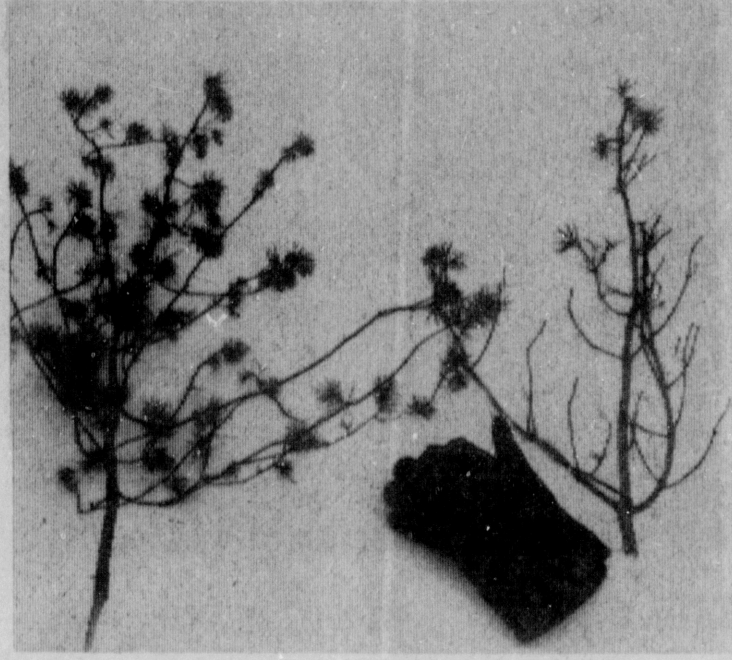

An insect outbreak in jack pine stands on the Hiawatha National Forest has developed considerable concern to both residents and visitors of the forest. Large areas of jack and mixed pines have been defoliated during the past two years by a pest known as jack pine budworm. From the numerous reports and questions received it is apparent that more than national forest timber is involved. Other timber resource managers, resort operators and all recreation interests have a "stake" in this infestation.

Feeding damage by the budworm is quite spectacular in early July when infested stands are changed from green to reddish-brown. Soon after, the defoliated trees take on naked appearance and remain so for the rest of the season; some forever.

Pines Suffer

The tiny, overwintered larvae begin feeding on staminate flower clusters as soon as the flowers form in late May and early June. As the larvae enlarge and the flowers are consumed or become over-mature the budworm feeds on new needles, buds and the young bark of new growth. Their feeding is wasteful.

The mined-off parts of uneaten needles are found webbed by silken threads and cling to branchlets. After a few days of drying they reddens to make tree tops resemble recently killed trees. After a few good rains the evidence is flushed away and true degree of defoliation becomes apparent.

THIS BRANCH of a jack pine shows first year growth following jack pine budworm defoliation. Several years of this stunted condition causes valuable wood volume loss by denying the tree the means of growth.

Sprayed In 1962

Although some tree mortality results from severe defoliation, damage from budworm feeding is mostly growth loss and top kill. Pine reproduction growing as under-story in budworm infestation areas is usually killed.

Jack pine stands that are even moderately defoliated by budworm take some time to re-establish cone crops. This results in seed loss; an important loss where regeneration cutting is scheduled.

The present jack pine budworm population covers approximately 200,000 acres of the Hiawatha in Delta, Alger, Schoolcraft, Chippewa and Mackinac counties. This infestation did not just appear as a surprise. The Hiawatha staff along with entomologists from the St. Paul office have been watching it build since the last budworm population collapse in 1963. That collapse came following a 12,000 acre aerial spray project in 1962.

By 1965, small stands within a 500 acre block on the Sault Ste. Marie Ranger District in Chippewa County had light to moderate defoliation. Spread of the budworm was expected but the degree of expected damage was considered tolerable.

In 1966 the area on the Soo District enlarged to 43,000 acres; an infestation of 200 acres near Jack Pine Lake on the Manistique District in Schoolcraft County appeared. Forest managers asked: will it now become necessary to set up a suppression project that involves aerial spraying?

Spraying Delayed

A control project was found not justified. The more time that can be borrowed, the better the chance that a natural population collapse will occur.

Jack pine budworm in 1967 had spread over the area predicted—grossly 170,000 acres. Although damage exceeded what was expected, tree mortality was mostly confined to open grown, over-mature and low value specimens. Only minor thinning from tree kill occurred in good stands, but considerable growth loss is inevitable.

Suppression Necessary

Extensive examinations of the 1967 feeding damage caused increased concern.

Analysis of all survey information indicated suppression was necessary in 1968. The question was, "Can it be done with known effective insecticides when all economics are considered?"

Suppression of jack pine budworm with DDT and other hard pesticides was highly successful in the past. Success could be assumed again.

Preliminary estimates indicated 130,000 acres should be sprayed. A "cost benefit evaluation" calculated the probable loss to the timber resource as tremendous—many times the cost of suppression, but adverse effects of applying a "hard pesticide" over such a vast area had to be considered also.

Timber types and topography vary considerably over large tracts. Many streams and their tributaries, some not even shown on maps, are difficult to define. A network of roads and trails add to the complex. Many vacationing visitors would already be on the forest. With the most careful planning and delineating in these large blocks, and with utmost caution in calibrating and applying spray, some mistakes would be made. Even where no mistakes are made, what adverse effects will involve the game animals and birds—all animals and birds—fish, insects—imbalances?

DDT Problems Known

More is known about the dangers and detrimental effects of DDT today than was even suspected a decade ago, but it was still not possible to answer all of the questions nor compute a monetary adverse effects evaluation for the use of DDT on this project.

The final decision was DDT could not be used. If a project were submitted it would have to be formulated around the use of another pesticide—one outside of the "hard pesticide" group.

(Concurrent with this decision, Al Trout, forest supervisor, issued a regulation banning the use of any chlorinated hydrocarbon for any project on the forest.)

Other pesticides were considered. An appraisal of milder and non-persistent chemicals pointed to malathion as the best alternative. It is much less toxic at the start and breaks down rapidly to complete destruction. It would eliminate nearly all of the adverse effects posed by DDT, but because of its short life application time would be critical; budworm larvae would have to be out of the staminate flower clusters, but with new shoot growth not yet damaged. This left but a very short time to spray 130,000 acres.

Such a project was proposed and regional Forest Service pest control offices approved and map-making for the project started with aerial observation flights.

Private Lands

State lands that were offered for exchange to the Forest Service remained in the plan. Corporate lands usually have the same interests in insect control as the Forest Service and one such block of nearly 2,000 acres was considering cost-sharing.

While preparation work continued on the Hiawatha, this $200,000 project was receiving study at higher research and administrative levels of the Forest Service. Of prime concern was the question of getting desired budworm kill with malathion. No precedent could be found to support positive value of this material against jack pine budworm. Other chemicals that could be substituted without serious adverse effects could not be determined.

In a joint conference between the Hiawatha, other national forests in the region, and forest pest control representatives, the project was canceled. A determination was made to test other insecticides on small areas but to take the losses that were predicted on all large scale budworm projects.

Damage occurred from the 1968 budworm population, but the weather helped to hold it down. Not many people in this area enjoyed the rainy and windy June of 1968 but neither did jack pine budworms. Larvae were flushed and blown from upper parts of tree crowns repeatedly during their feeding spent a great deal of time feeding on the lower foliage which is relatively unimportant to tree vigor. As a result virtually no tree mortality resulted, and top kill damage and growth loss values were much less than originally predicted.

Weather Problems

By the same token, it would have been nearly impossible to do aerial spraying during the critical period. Any plan to accomplish extensive spraying with just a normal compliment of planes would have come far short of its goals.

Fate or luck? Another season has gone by without complete disaster. The Forest Service has collected part of the information necessary for predicting next summer's budworm population, with more information yet to be assembled. But the hope remains that any or all natural elements will combine to end the present jack pine budworm population.

No prediction nor 1969 plan is yet available. Whatever happens to the present infestation, history tells us that another outbreak will follow in a few years and will build up. Hopes are that the U. S. Forest Service, along with other land managers, will have the ideal chemical by then.

$110,000 Fund Intact:

New Entrance Road Tops Fayette Work

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Construction of a new entrance road and development of an adequate parking lot are the principal projects to be accomplished from a $110,000 appropriation approved by the Michigan Legislature three years ago for Fayette State Park.

"I can assure you that from now on I will see what I can do to push for early action," Glenn C. Gregg, Lansing, Conservation Department deputy director - recreation, has advised the Escanaba Daily Press.

The $110,000 appropriation is reported by the Parks Division as broken down as follows:

Early Completion

Engineering service — $10,000; Restoration — $7,600; Entrance road and parking — $72,000; Water system — $13,500; and contingencies — $6,900.

"The only work which has been accomplished to date out of this fund is the $7,600 for restoration," Gregg reported.

"The engineering funds have been set aside for development of plans and contract letting, for the entrance road and parking as well as the water system.

"The field survey work has been completed and certainly we hope for an early completion of plans and expenditure of this fund toward the development of Fayette State Park," Gregg advised.

The need for action in carrying out the development plans became increasingly apparent this year as attendance at Fayette State Park increased to nearly 100,000 persons — about 30 per cent above last year.

Traffic Safety

The parking lot at Fayette — in a temporary location on the site of the old furnace "ghost town" — had to be expanded "a lot further than was ever thought we would have to go," said James Kent, Fayette Park manager.

Figuring another visitor increase of about 30 per cent next year, which Kent believes is conservative, will really tax the visitor parking capacity. "And one of these years there will really be a boom — perhaps next year — and we're just not going to be able to take care of the people," he added.

The proposed new entrance road will be located atop the high limestone bluff overlooking the harbor and the old town. The relocation will provide for an improved flow of traffic and will eliminate the hazards that now occur when State Park crowds, intent on recreation, walk along County Road 483, now the only route through the park.

The new parking lot will be located above the townsite, where the "race track" was located in Fayette's boom days. This large area overlooks the town and Little Bay de Noc, and is near the administration offices and shop.

Water Needed

Plans for future development include an interpretative center, where visitors will receive information about the 101-year-old community before they begin following the pathway tours to view the old iron smelting furnaces and other structures.

The new entrance road will give improved access not only to the historical attractions of the old town, but also to the camping ground, boat launching site, and the picnic grounds and swimming beach at the north side of the park.

The water system is one of the major necessities for the park, said Manager Kent.

Presently a limited quantity of water comes from one small well at the old town, and at the camping grounds water is drawn from Big Bay de Noc and treated for use by the campers. What is needed is a new well atop the bluff, where the water will serve the needs of administration, shop staff and public, and be piped downhill to the town and the camping ground.

New Car Sales Up By 23.7%

DETROIT (AP) — Domestic new car sales by the top automakers jumped 23.7 per cent on a daily rate basis in mid-November over last year, with Ford Motor Co. reporting a whopping upsurge of nearly 74 per cent over 1967 when it had just emerged from a nationwide strike.

Also on a daily rate basis, General Motors showed a 3.8 per cent increase and Chrysler 13.8 per cent, while American Motors Corp. dipped 8.4 per cent.

There were nine selling days during the middle ten days of November this year and eight last year.

Total sales for the period were 289,210 this year compared with 196,012 last year. The daily rate was 32,134 this year, compared with 24,501 during the same ten days in 1967.

Operation Holiday

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Union Bank & Trust Co. of Grand Rapids is sponsoring for its third year in a row "Operation Holiday," in which local servicemen in Vietnam may telephone their families free during the Christmas holidays.

Free calls are limited to servicemen from Kent County and Ottawa County's Georgetown Township. The bank pays for three minutes. It will begin to take names and addresses of servicemen submitted by relatives on Nov. 29. A card from the bank will advise servicemen of their privilege.

Speck's Death Penalty Upheld

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) —

The Illinois Supreme Court upheld Friday the death penalty for Richard Speck, who was convicted of murdering eight nurses in Chicago in 1966.

The court disagreed with lawyers for Speck that Speck could not get a fair trial in Peoria County.

The Illinois Supreme Court also disagreed with the defense attorney's contention that a death penalty should not have been given because the prosecution questioned prospective jurors as to whether they were prejudiced for or against the death penalty.

The Illinois court also disagreed with the lawyers' contention that the death penalty is cruel or unusual punishment.

The court set a new date of Jan. 31, 1969, for the electrocution of Speck, who will be 27 on Dec. 7.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty-one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Kimberly Clark Profits Decline

Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis., one of the nation's leading paper companies, reported lower sales and profits for the first half of its fiscal year.

Sales in the six months ended Oct. 31 dropped to $360 million from $375 million in the corresponding period last year. Net income declined to $19 million or $1.90 a share from $22 million or $2.17 a share a year ago.

Second quarter sales this year slipped to $184 million from $195 million a year ago while earnings dipped to $10.2 million or $1.16 a share from $11 million or $1.16 a share.

Guy Minard, president, said the declines were due to strikes, the new federal surtax on income and the sale last Jan. 2 of the Blake, Moffitt & Towne Division.

Kimberly-Clark plans to eliminate its annual and interim reports based on a fiscal year which ends April 30. With advent of year around logging, April 30 has lost its significance in the pulp and paper industry.

WFRV Asks Trenary Site For NBC Satellite Unit

WFRV-TV, operating WFRV-TV (Channel 5, Green Bay) ran into opposition before the Federal Communications Commission from Post Corp., operating WLUC-TV, (Channel 6, Marquette) in its request for allocation of Channel 3 to it for a satellite station in the Upper Peninsula and has now amended its proposal.

WFRV is now asking the FCC to approve its creation of a satellite transmitter to boost its broadcasts in the U.P. at a site 4.3 miles south of Trenary and 17 miles north of Escanaba. (Channel 3 had been allocated for Escanaba for telecast purposes, but Escanaba has never had a television station. The only one in the U.P. is WLUC at Marquette.)

WFRV's original request had been for a transmitter at Rumely, 14.7 miles northwest of the site now being proposed near Trenary. The site originally proposed would be that much closer to WLUC's transmitter near Marquette.

Fight For Viewers

The more television viewers that WFRV's satellite station in the U. P. could attract for its National Broadcast Corp. programs, the fewer there would be for WLUC, which has "local station" status in the U. P., giving it blackout privileges against duplicating programs on other channels.

WFRV is coming to the U.P. seeking more viewers for its programs because of loss of "local station" status in Wisconsin areas. In cities like Escanaba, Marquette and Iron Mountain with community antenna service WFRV can reach viewers for NBC programs which aren't blacked out under the "local station" rule, but it cannot, because of distance, reach rural television sets with a strong signal. It was to make its programs generally available to a larger U. P. viewership that it proposed to FCC that it be allocated Channel 3 for its satellite. The transmitter would originate no program, only relay the broadcast of those aired at Green Bay.

Speedup Sought

General Manager Robert O. Southard said WFRV is proposing changing its community of satellite license from Brantton to Escanaba, as well as changing the transmitter site. WFRV filed for Channel 3 on June 21, 1967 and WLUC opposed. The FCC set the application for hearing which Southard said could have delayed the transmitter for an extended period.

Southard said his firm "still believes its initial application would have been granted after a hearing and would have served the public interest by bringing badly needed first free off-the-air NBC programming and a second free off-the-air service to the entire central Upper Peninsula. However, to avoid the delay a hearing would entail and to bring this badly needed new service to the area at the earliest practical time, WFRV selected a new site which will provide new service and which it believes will resolve all hearing issues relating to the original site.

"The 1,252 foot tower will cover the entire central Upper Peninsula as a full power satellite station duplicating all of the local and NBC network programming of WFRV-TV, Green Bay."

Receive Warnings

The three persons in the light plane, a Cessna 150, were killed. They were Ricky Lunne Stenberg, 19, of Elk Grove Village, Ill., the pilot; Virginia Johnson, 18, of Mount Prospect, Ill., and her brother, Richard, 13.

Pilot of the North Central plane was Capt. Ted Baum, 43, of Skokie, Ill. He was not injured. Co-pilot John A. Mazur, 30, of Wheaton, Ill., suffered a broken right leg and other injuries.

Baum and Mazur both testified at the hearing that they had received radio warnings about a Cessna 150 in the area, but that they did not see the single-engine plane until a split second before the crash.

Fly Same Direction

Romney Delays Vacation; Busy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has postponed his vacation "due to the press of official duties, including preparation of next year's budget and legislative program," the executive office announced today.

Romney and his wife Lenore had been scheduled to leave Saturday to vacation at an undisclosed location and attend the Republican Governors' Conference December 4-7 at Palm Springs, Calif.

He now is not expected to leave before Nov. 29, his office said.

Legislators Ask For Pay Raises

LANSING (AP) — Two legislators pleaded with the new state officers' compensation commission for more money Thursday, while a third said lawmakers' current expense allowances aren't large enough.

After the public hearing Lawrence Carino, commission chairman, said the seven-member body would announce next Tuesday its determination of pay scales for the governor, lieutenant governor, legislators and state supreme court justices.

The new rates will take effect Jan. 1, unless overturned by two-thirds legislative majorities.

Besides the two lawmakers, the commission also heard a warning from a schoolteacher's wife that "there will be close to eight million people screaming" if it awards substantial salary increases to the officials.

'Pretty Good'

The woman, Mrs. Ila Church of East Lansing, said present compensation levels are already "pretty good." The governor earns $40,000; the lieutenant governor $22,500; and the justices $35,000 each. Legislators receive $12,500 in salary and another $2,500 for "expenses."

"I cannot live on the money I would get as a legislator," said Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford, whose legal practice supplements his income.

Lodge, who served in the House of Representatives in 1946 when lawmakers earned $3 per session day, said the current $15,000 pay rate should be raised to $18,000 or $20,000.

"How are you going to get men of dedication, men of ability, to come down here and fight for the people's rights unless you provide them adequate compensation?" he asked.

Schweigert Concern

Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, representing a 14-county district which spans the Straits of Mackinac, gave the committee figures from his 1967 income tax return showing $6,837.28 in job-connected expenses.

Schweigert said the figure included driving 21,600 miles, hotel bills of $533, apartment rental in Lansing of $2,062, and meals eaten during his 214 days away from home.

He urged the commission to consider such expenses in reaching its determination.

He's Caught Doing What He Felt Like

FLINT (AP) — Lambrose Young, 25, of Flint, likely will pick a different spot next time he does something just to prove he can do it if he feels like it.

Because he felt like doing his thing Thursday night, he ended up in jail, charged with drunken driving, for which he was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail, and driving without a license.

Patrolman Ronald Kennedy said he was sitting in a cruiser at the rear of Police Headquarters, when an automobile in front suddenly went over the curb and sidewalk, under a pedestrian walkway and then circled the lawn before coming to the rear and stalling.

Kennedy said Young was at the wheel, and when he asked him why he did it, Young replied: "Just to prove I could do it if I felt like it."

Father Connor Is New Commodore Of Yacht Club

The Manistique Yacht Club will meet Monday, Nov. 25 at 7:30 p. m. in the clubrooms to consider several action items. The Yacht Club recently held a reorganizational meeting and elected Father Kenneth Connor as Commodore and George Chvala, Vice Commodore for the coming year.

On the agenda for Monday night's meeting will be discussion on removal of a pier at the harbor, new plumbing and windows for the clubrooms, joint meetings with the Coast Guard Auxiliary, a Christmas party as well as a review of unfinished projects and new projects for the group.

Various committee heads were selected at the last meeting, including: maintenance, Lowell Varvil; city government relations, Howard Handorf; fees and docking, George Chvala; publicity, Ken Connor; and ground maintenance, Bill Mulhaupt.

Two Motorists Kill Three Deer

The 'elusive butterfly' has been immortalized in song; we've all heard tales of elusive fish from dedicated anglers and now the hunters are at the podium singing sad songs about 'elusive deer'.

If you asked a certain Canadian motorist who passed through the Schoolcraft County area Thursday about elusive deer he'd probably throw up his hands in dismay.

Richard Allen, a 42-year-old motorist from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, was driving through the Blaney Park area on U. S. 2 at 5:15 Thursday afternoon when two deer with a death wish jumped in front of his auto and achieved same. Allen reported to Michigan State Police that his auto was not damaged and proceeded on his journey. No tickets were issued and the two carcasses were turned over to the Dept. of Natural Resources.

Helmi Patterson of Newberry was passing the same location Friday morning at 9:30 when a third deer with the same frustrations jumped in front of her car and was killed. No tickets, no damage to Mrs. Patterson's auto but another call to the busy Dept. of Natural Resources.

Police Cadets To Begin Duty

EAST LANSING (AP) — The first class of Michigan State Police cadets is to report for duty Monday.

The 10 youths—all assigned to different posts—will handle radio and telephone traffic, various clerical responsibilities and other work detailed by supervising officers.

From the training positions, the cadets are to be appointed automatically to the first trooper recruit school held after they reach age 21.

The 10 successful cadets—appointed to the cadet pilot program from a field of 306 applicants—are: Joseph A. Beaupre, 19, of Howell, assigned to Ypsilanti; Larry A. Beid, 20, of Spring Lake, assigned to Grand Haven; Mike V. Bortoff, 20, of Sparta, assigned to Rockford; Gary D. Cunningham, 19, of Lansing, assigned to East Lansing; Gene W. Hoekwater, 20, of Mario, assigned to Flint; Larry E. Julian, 19, of Pittsford, assigned to Battle Creek; Chris B. McGraw, 20, of Midland, assigned to Traverse City.

Larry P. Sonntag, 19, of Sebewaing, assigned to Bay City; Gregory T. Young, 19, of Jackson, assigned to Jackson; and Robert G. Zellman, 20, of Detroit, assigned to Pontiac.

The youths are to receive cadet certificates Dec. 20 as part of the graduation ceremonies for the 73rd Trooper Recruit School.

Onassis Joins Jackie In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Aristotle Onassis flew here from Paris Friday night to join his wife Jacqueline. The former First Lady had preceded her husband by four days. She spent Friday, the fifth anniversary of the assassination of her first husband, President John F. Kennedy, in seclusion with her children.

Onassis arrived at Kennedy Airport aboard one of his Olympic Airways jets, was cleared by customs officials while still on the plane, then drove into Manhattan.

Men have used artificial devices to keep cool for centuries, the National Geographic Society says. Ancient Egyptians soaked the walls of their homes with water; Roman slaves brought down mountain snow to pack in the hollow outer walls of their masters' villas.

Trenary Scores Second Victory

TRENARY—High scoring by Greg Begovac and Tim Harris led the Trenary Comets to a 99-60 cage triumph over Grand Marais for their second victory of the season against one loss.

Begovac led all scorers on the floor with 28 points and Harris added 24 to aid in the winning cause. Also hitting in double figures were Alvin Aho with 19 points and Gary Hager with 11.

The Comets scored over 20 points in each quarter by leading the victory over the smooth running Grand Marais Comets. Coach Steve Ellis was pleased with the way his Trenary team improved from the free throw line since their first game.

Ellis was also impressed with the Grand Marais outfit. "I have yet to see a bunch of high school boys so well-behaved," said Ellis. "They also impressed the crowd with their fine behavior and attitude."

Six Contenders In Tough Tests

By The Associated Press
Defense could be the name of the games in Baltimore, Chicago and Los Angeles Sunday when six National Football League contenders face formidable tests.

In Baltimore, the Colts, whose defense shackled St. Louis last week for its second shutout of the season, entertain Minnesota's fierce young Vikings in a meeting of Western Conference division leaders.

Minnesota, which has risen to the top of the Central Division behind a rapidly-maturing defensive unit, holds a one-game edge over Chicago. Baltimore, riding a four-game winning streak in which it has yielded just 20 points, leads Los Angeles by one-half game in the Coastal race.

The Bears meet Dallas' Capitol front-runner in Chicago, with each club expected to rely heavily on defensive strength in the wake of injuries to key offensive players.

In Los Angeles, the Rams' Fearsome Threesome-Lamar Lundy is out for the season following knee surgery-takes on the New York Giants, whose defensive crew came of age in an upset victory over Dallas two weeks ago and a 7-6 squeaker over winless Philadelphia last Sunday.

New York trails the Cowboys by one game in the Capitol scramble.

Cleveland, leading St. Louis by 1½ games in the Century Division, puts its five-game winning streak on the line against visiting Philadelphia while Atlanta is at St. Louis. Green Bay at Washington, San Francisco at Pittsburgh and New Orleans at Detroit.

In American Football League action the New York Jets visit San Diego, Oakland is at Cincinnati, Miami at Boston and Buffalo at Denver. Kansas City and Houston draw byes.

Michigan Tech Ties Wisconsin

HOUGHTON (AP)—Michigan Tech got three goals in the final period to gain a 7-7 tie against Wisconsin in a nonconference hockey game, which the coaches decided to let continue in a 10-minute overtime that proved scoreless.

Wisconsin scored three goals in both the first and second periods and one in the third. Michigan Tech got two goals each in the first two periods.

Bob Pofferoth had two goals for Wisconsin and John Haines two for Michigan Tech. Both now have identical 2-0-1 records.

Wyoming Hoping To Get Grid Bowl Bid Tonight

By The Associated Press
The Wyoming Cowboys might not be riding as high as last year, but they still nurse hopes of corraling another top bowl bid if they can get by equally hopeful Arizona in one of college football's top games tonight.

The Cowboys, who surprised everyone by barging into the Sugar Bowl last season with the only major college unbeaten, untied record, are among the main contenders for a berth in the Liberty Bowl.

Although dropping to a 7-2 record thus far this year, they are 6-0 in the Western Athletic Conference and can wrap up the title by beating Arizona, 4-0 at Tucson, Ariz.

NFL Injuries Alter Offenses

By The Associated Press
Injuries to regulars will give the offenses in both the National and American Football Leagues a new look this weekend with most of the changes at quarterback.

Both Dallas and Chicago will be calling on substitute signal callers in Sunday's game. Don Meredith, the Cowboys' regular quarterback, has a slightly torn ligament in his left knee and Craig Morton is expected to start. Rookie Virgil Carter, who has led Chicago to four straight victories, broke an ankle last Sunday and Jack Concannon, still recovering from a broken collarbone, will start.

Regulars Sonny Jurgensen of Washington and Bart Starr of Green Bay will start but neither is 100 per cent for the game between the Packers and the Redskins. Starr has some bruised ribs and Jurgensen some broken ones.

Other NFL quarterbacks under par but prepared to play are Cleveland's Bill Nelsen, who has a sprained ankle, Minnesota's Gary Cuozzo, recovering from a cracked collarbone, Karl Sweetan of New Orleans, sprained ankle, Detroit's Bill Munson sore neck and right arm and Atlanta's Randy Johnson, broken ribs.

Boston Moves Into Top Spot

By The Associated Press
With Cincinnati sitting on the sidelines, the Boston Celtics and Baltimore Bullets continued their game of musical chairs with the Celtics back in their accustomed front row seat.

Boston, the defending National Basketball Association champions, retook first place in the Eastern Division with a 133-106 rout over Phoenix while the visiting Bullets were losing to Philadelphia 121-110 Friday night.

The victory put the Celtics a half game ahead of Baltimore and one game in front of idle Cincinnati.

The New York Knicks pulled away from Chicago in the final minutes for a 114-107 victory in the opener of a doubleheader at Boston.

San Francisco squeezed past Los Angeles 100-98 and Elvin Hayes scored 45 points as San Diego routed Seattle 126-111 in the night's other games.

Wyoming, ranked 20th is one of two teams in the top 20 in action tonight. Houston, No. 2, 11, is a heavy favorite to raise its 5-1-2 record against Tulsa, 2-6, in the Astrodome.

In other games, Louisiana State, 6-3, travels to the Sugar Bowl against cross-state rival Tulane, 2-7, a heavy underdog; Colorado State U. plays at Texas-El Paso; San Jose State invades Arizona State, and Southern Mississippi plays at Tampa.

In Friday night's only major game, Vanderbilt outscored Davidson 53-20 for its first winning season—since 1959. John Miller ran for one touchdown and passed for another and Doug Matthews returned a punt 89 yards for a third as the Commodores ran up a 34-0 lead.

In the Gateway Classic in St. Louis, Southern Illinois swamped Southwest Missouri 68-6.

Both Wyoming and Arizona promise to be hard pressed for points with the Cowboys, the nation's top-ranked team on total defense and rushing defense, giving up only 194.9 and 67.3 yards per game in each category. Arizona is not far behind, ranking fourth on total defense by giving up only 222 yards a game.

That might leave the struggle up to Bob Jacobs, Wyoming's replacement for All-American kicker Jerry DePoyster. Jacobs has brought the Cowboys 67 points by booting 14 field goals and 25 extra points and needs only one field goal to tie DePoyster's WAC record.

Should Arizona win, the wildcats could win the title and a likely bowl bid by tripping Arizona State, 4-1, which still has an outside chance.

Houston, which has beaten Tulane 54-7, Cincinnati 71-33, and Idaho 77-3, appears in for another scoring spree against Tulsa, which has given up 207 points.

LSU holds a 40-18-7 record against Tulane in their long rivalry and has not lost to the Green Wave since 1948, although there have been two ties. The Tigers have won the last 12.

Michigan, No. 4, met Ohio State, No. 2, for the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl in Saturday afternoon's highlight game.

Top-ranked Southern California played a late afternoon televised game on the West Coast against cross-city rival UCLA. Penn State, No. 3, played at Pittsburgh; Kansas, No. 7, invaded Missouri, No. 13; Tennessee, No. 8, entertained Kentucky, and Arkansas, No. 9, traveled to Texas Tech.

Yale and Harvard met for the Ivy League title, Oklahoma, No. 14, played at Nebraska on television and Indiana was at Purdue in other big games.

Legislator Defines School Extension

LANSING (AP) — Provisions for extending the school year beyond the required 180 days should not just include revision of summer programs, a legislator told the State Department of Education Friday.

Rep. James Farnsworth, R-Plainwell and a member of the House Appropriations Committee, appeared at an education department hearing on rules governing distribution of $100-000 the legislature made available for studies of the possible extension.

The rules, Farnsworth said, should not suggest that an organization plan for an extended school year include "a modification of a summer school session." The department's proposed rules do include such language.

"This was not legislative intent" in appropriating the funds Farnsworth said. "We don't want to just plan something else for what you have in the summer. What we hoped to avoid is a district using funds for revision of the summer session by itself."

Volunteers Work At Installing Christmas Lights

About 25 volunteers were hard at work Thursday night for over five hours as they begin installing the new Christmas lighting in Manistique. The decorations were recently purchased by the Chamber of Commerce, through a special fund drive, and cost in excess of $8,500.

Denton Moir, Retail Division Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the lighting project, said that 42 of the 72 new fixtures were installed between 6:30 and 12 midnight. The attractive ornaments have three separate designs which are rotated on the light poles: bells, scintillas and lanterns in both white and red colors. The designs are centered in a swoop-garland tinsel effect of shimmering green.

Target Date
Thanksgiving is the target date for finished installation of the new decorations, Moir said (hopefully). A timing device will regulate the new lighting to go on each afternoon at 3 o'clock and off at 12 midnight. The permanent wiring installation cost, estimated at $2,500, is being borne by the city and will be absorbed over a period of time.

Helpers
Among the volunteers who donated their personal services and/or equipment for the workweek Thursday night were the following business concerns: Hoholik Plumbing & Heating, Manistique Lumber Co., Maytag and Furniture, Sears Catalog Store, Hancock Lumber Co., Westside Home Furnishings, Peoples Store and Ben Franklin, J. C. Penney Co., Norden's Foodland, Gambles, Manistique Cleaners, Northern Wooden Goods, and Reese's.

Mrs. Paul Larson, Mrs. Vern Linderoth and Mrs. Robert Ebl served coffee and sandwiches to the workers when they took a 10 o'clock coffee break at the People's Store. Another crew of volunteers is expected to work again Sunday on the lighting installation.

City Briefs
Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. LaPlante of Washington, D. C. are expected to arrive this weekend to spend Thanksgiving with LaPlante's aunt, Mrs. W. J. Sheahan, 223 Range St. The LaPlante's have been moose hunting in Ontario for the past week.

Thanksgiving day guests of Mrs. Elmer T. Lundstrom, 230 Arbutus Ave., will include Mr. and Mrs. John Morrow and Johanna of N. Olmstead, Ohio; Mrs. B. M. Davis, Garland, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. William Bays and family of Newberry.

Social

Bridge Club

Bridge awards went to Mrs. Robert Rozich, Mrs. James Redeker and Mrs. Lowell Cooper when Mrs. John Strable entertained her bridge club Thursday evening at her home on Cherry St.

A dessert was served preceding the bridge play and Mrs. Edward J. Doyle was a guest of the club.

NAHMA — Big Bay de Noc jumped out to an early 12-point lead in the first quarter and built on it in every quarter following to score a 91-62 victory over the Eben Eagles in the season opener for both schools.

The scoring and defensive play of Bill Hartman and the rebounding of Dave Feathers and John Lewandowski played a big role in the victory. Hartman finished the night with 33 points on 11 field goals and 11 free throws. Feathers tossed in 18 points and Lewandowski chipped in with 17.

Leading Eben in scoring were Joe Goin with 15 points, Duane Ruska with 11 and Leo Niemi with 10.

Free throws played a big part in the game as Eben lost four men through the foul route and one Big Bay player fouled out of the game. The Black Bears made 36 of their 50 free throw attempts and the Eagles were successful on 25 of 45 shots from the gift line.

Eskymo Cagers Top Marquette In Debut

MARQUETTE — A surprising performance by sophomore Tom Kangas and the hot shooting of John Moberg led the Escanaba Eskymos to a 77-68 triumph over the Marquette Redmen in the Eskymos opening game of the season last night.

Kangas led the Eskymos in scoring with 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws in his first start as a varsity performer. At one point in the game, Kangas made five field goals in a row.

Moberg contributed 18 points to the winning cause and his timely shooting enabled the Eskymos to lengthen their lead over the Redmen when the score got close in the second half.

The Eskymos came out cold in the opening quarter but managed to cut the Marquette lead to three points at the end of the period to only three points behind the scoring of Moberg and Dan Mylander. Marquette's Bob Schacht got eleven of the Redmen's 20 points in the quarter.

The Eskymos jumped out to a 23-20 lead early in the second quarter and built up a six point lead at the end of the period as Moberg began hitting his jump shot from the side. Mylander made six free throws in six attempts in the period to help the Eskymos extend their lead.

Escanaba built a 10-point lead early in the third quarter and were leading by eight points with 5:21 left in the period before Marquette closed the gap to two points late in the frame. A field goal by Greg Johnson, two by Moberg and two by Kangas built the Eskymos lead back to ten points as the quarter ended.

Coach Bill Howes emptied the Eskymo bench in the fourth quarter after building up a 12-point lead with four minutes remaining. Marquette closed the gap to six points on a field goal by Joe LaPorte and a three point play by Steve Hill. Two free throws by Mike Beck put the Eskymos back out in front by nine in the final minute of play. Mylander hit two free throws after time had run out in the game to give the Eskymos their nine-point winning margin after the Redmen hit another field goal.

In addition to the play of Kangas, Coach Howes was equally pleased with the performance of Mylander and Beck and the way the Eskymos controlled the boards on rebounds. Moberg gathered in 14 rebounds to lead the Eskymos in that department and the

New Baseball Lineup Could Hurt Football

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's precedent-breaking Saturday World Series opener next fall figures to make double trouble for professional football in a stepped-up scuffle for the October television spotlight.

The 1969 baseball season will run from April 7 through Oct. 2, followed by best-of-5 playoff sets between division winners in each league starting Saturday, Oct. 4 and the best-of-7 Series beginning Saturday, Oct. 11. The Associated Press learned Friday.

The playoffs, result of the new 24-team, four-division major league format, put baseball on a collision course with pro football for national television audiences at least two, and possibly three times ... in the heart of the football season.

In recent years, there was only one Sunday conflict between World Series baseball and regular season pro football.

"We're not moving into their season," said American League

Judge Sentences Welfare Sit-Ins

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An Ann Arbor municipal judge Friday sentenced 171 University of Michigan students and 1 welfare mothers on trespass charges from a September sit-in demonstration and suggested the students use their jail bonds to pay the mothers' fines.

Municipal Judge S. J. Elden said the "generous spirit" in the earlier drive among students to raise bond money might be applied to pay the mothers' fines.

The judge fined all $15, ordered court costs between $50 and $85, 90 days probation, and gave them a choice of seven days in the county jail or participating in a court work program.

Only seven of the defendants decided to accept the seven-day jail sentence rather than accept the court's work program, which generally included laboring on the Wayne County Road Commission for the young men and working at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Washtenaw County Hospital for the women.

The judge also said some coeds could work off their time in the work program by babysitting for the welfare mothers while they participated in the court work program.

Hunter Wounded By Brother-In-Law

GLADWIN (AP)—Lewis E. Thomas, 26, of Gladwin, was shot and wounded accidentally Thursday by his brother-in-law, Allen Doan, 28, also of Gladwin, while they were deer hunting in northern Gladwin County. A rifle bullet hit Thomas in the thigh.

4 Michigan Men Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Michigan soldiers were among recent casualties in Vietnam, the Defense Department announced Friday.

Killed in action were Spec. 4 Jerry E. Dorrough, husband of Linda F. Dorrough of Detroit; Pfc. Donald P. Evans, husband of Sharon Evans of Lake Orion; and Pfc. Gerald F. Rock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Rock of Grand Rapids.

Killed in Vietnam, but not as a result of hostile action was Army Sgt. Leonard L. Thompson, son of Mrs. Moore L. Thompson of Detroit.

Buck Is Stolen

ONAWAY (AP)—Authorities are looking for a deer hunter who meets one or two or maybe both qualifications: sneakiest or laziest in Michigan.

Frank Stoned of RFD-1, Onaway, reported to police that a spike-horn buck he had shot and had hanging in his unlocked garage is missing.

President Joe Cronin after confirming that the baseball schedule had been set three months ago. "Heck, they've moved into ours. They start their season in July now."

Nevertheless, there will be one baseball-football television confrontation on Sunday Oct. 4, when baseball's league playoffs are in progress, another on the first Sunday of the Series and, should the Series go seven games as it did this year, a third on the following Sunday.

The only Sunday game played in the 1968 Series between Detroit and St. Louis was beamed into an estimated 28,610,000 homes, making it the biggest sports attraction in television history.

A pro football spokesman declined to comment on the new schedule, which Cronin said was "signed and sealed in August."

Announcement of the schedule apparently was to have been made at the annual winter meetings, which begin Dec. 2 in San Francisco.

Each club will play a 162-game schedule, meeting teams in its division 18 times apiece and teams in the other division 12 times apiece.

The regular season will end on Thursday, Oct. 2, instead of the previous weekend as in the past. The first two games in playoff series between Eastern and Western division winners in each league will be played in one city; the next three, if all are necessary, in the other city.

Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, New York and Washington are in the American League's Eastern Division, with California, Chicago, Kansas City, Minnesota, Oakland and Seattle in the Western Division.

In the National League, the East consists of Chicago, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Louis. Atlanta, Cincinnati, Houston, Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco are in the West.

Kansas City and Seattle are the American League expansion teams; Montreal and San Diego the National League newcomers.

Heaviest Research Submarine Tested

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—America's heaviest research submarine, built to conduct the most extensive survey yet in the depths of the Gulf Stream, has successfully performed its first dive—five feet down in the port of Palm Beach.

"It is not the depth that is important, it is the fact that it went down and came back to the surface," said Swiss ocean engineer Dr. Jacques Piccard, a Swiss ocean engineer who was one of six persons inside the Ben Franklin when it dove for the first time Friday. "We were down 4 1/2 hours ... The water did not come in from the outside and things worked very well."

The bus-sized submersible, built by Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. under Piccard's supervision, is to house a six-man scientific team headed by Piccard during an all-underwater drift deep in the Gulf Stream between Palm Beach and Massachusetts beginning next June 1.

Prison Walkaway Caught By Hunter

JACKSON (AP)—A Jackson deer hunter took time out from his hunt Friday to capture a walkaway from Wing Farm of Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

The hunter, R. G. Bradford, spotted Sidney L. McKenzie, 27, in a wooded area in Rives Township near Jackson, marched him to a house and called police. McKenzie, who was sentenced last April in Genesee County from three to five years for carrying a concealed weapon, was reported missing Thursday. A $50 reward was offered for his capture and Bradford collected.

Jess Phillips

Ex-Con Phillips Makes Comeback On Gridiron

CINCINNATI (NEA)—They call it Camp Pontiac.

It's a minimum security prison in Clarkston, Mich. No walls, guns or fences. The inmates are short-timers, all convicted of minor crimes.

Sunday is their day to bowl. In the day room, dozens of inmates huddle around a television set to watch the Cincinnati Bengals play. Every time Jess Phillips makes a tackle, or runs back a punt, cheers erupt. Number 30 is their man. They know him well at Camp Pontiac.

Jess Phillips lived there eight months.

A year ago, he drew a sentence of 14 months to 15 years after pleading guilty to a forgery charge in Kalamazoo. He was a 21-year-old student and football star at Michigan State University at the time.

Sent to Camp Pontiac, Jess Phillips was made a recreation leader and did his time teaching inmates how to play football. He was released on probation after eight months and immediately signed by the Bengals, for whom he is a defensive safety and punt return specialist.

His past poses no problem. In fact, mention of it is greeted by icy stares at Spinney Field, where the Cincinnati Bengals practice. Coach Paul Brown will have it no other way.

"All right, so the boy made a mistake," says Brown. "He paid his debt and is making significant contributions now. As far as we're concerned, the issue is forgotten. Jess Phillips is a football player, and a good one at that."

Phillips is sensitive about the subject. His sharply chiseled features tighten when he talks about it.

"It's over and done with now," he says. "I made a mistake and paid for it. I'm grateful to the Bengals for giving me a chance to come back. I'm a football player again. I hope people let me forget the past."

Some people don't. There are always whispers.

Those damn whispers ...

"Some people are really cruel," says a Bengal spokesman. "They scream and yell things at Jess from the stands. They act as if he's some kind of hardened criminal. He takes it well though. He lets it roll right off. If he didn't he'd be a pretty disturbed boy."

Phillips was All-Big Ten during his junior year at Michigan State. In his first game of his senior season, he wrenched his knee and never played another game of college football. At the time, the Green Bay Packers, for one, had him listed among the top five prospects in the country.

The Michigan State people were stunned by the Phillips case. "He was never in trouble before that," says one of the spartan publicists. "He passed a few bad checks and bought a hi-fi radio and movie equipment with them. He pleaded guilty and we were hoping for a suspended sentence. The severity of the one he received shocked us."

The Bengals went right into Camp Pontiac to talk contract with Phillips. He signed with the club the morning he was released and joined the team for practice that same afternoon. Now he's a starter.

Against the Kansas City Chiefs, Jess Phillips intercepted a pass, returned it 30-yards and set up a go-ahead field goal for the Bengals. Teammates hugged him. Paul Brown slapped his backside. Assistant coaches greeted him elatedly.

The crowd gave him a standing ovation.

Momentarily, even the whis-pers were drowned out.

11 Counties Join In Food Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has designated 11 counties in Michigan to join the Food Stamp Program this fiscal year.

The counties are: Baraga, Calhoun, Cass, Ionia, Livingston, Marquette, Mecosta, Menominee, Montcalm, Presque Isle and Tuscola.

The program enables eligible low-income families to increase their food-purchasing power by buying food coupons (stamps) from the Federal government. The coupons are spent like cash at retail food outlets authorized under the program.

Kentucky pioneered in the development of an extensive state parks system.

Fired Stewardess Gets Jobless Pay

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Celeste Lansdale, who was fired from her job as an airline stewardess for being married, has been granted jobless pay by the Florida Industrial Commission.

An appeals referee for the commission ruled that Mrs. Lansdale was entitled to compensation since marriage did not constitute misconduct.

Mrs. Lansdale's husband, Richard, an attorney, said he will file suit against United Air Lines for back pay. The airline has agreed to give Mrs. Lansdale her job back.
